test with the late proprietor of the theatre which she re-cently occupied, or its new owner, Mr. Burton She probably agrees with a distinguished jurist, who said that if a man were to bring a suit against him for his coat, he would take it off and relinquish possession rather than lefend the action. Thus she has taken the easiest way of settling a dispute which has made a great deal of talk in theatrical circles, and promised a rich harvest for the lawyers. as steel and published by J. C. Buttre, of this city.—Tribune, fully 11.

3. It is also the best, as it gives Col. Fremont's principal reports unabridged, thus enabling the public to judge of him not only by his works, but by his eloquent and classic words, the reports are in hemselves replicts with strking incident. They are written with the enchusias an of an explorer, yet with the modesty of a man of science.—N. Y. Independent.

4. It is the best, as it contains the most complete record of the life and doings of the standard bearer of freedom. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Finally, it is the best, as it discusses and refutes the slanders of his political enemies, and is thus particularly acceptable to republicans.
